Further Education Leadership Packages

Sports Leaders Further Education packages are a flexible and cost-effective way to empower your students with the leadership skills they need to succeed at university and in the work place.

Your students will develop and hone their leadership skills through sessions and activities adapted to suit the latest guidance around Covid-19. By working towards recognised qualifications, learners boost their confidence and become more employable by learning to lead others. In doing so, your organisation will benefit from creating a cohort of young leaders who can be role models for other students and improve your college's standing in the local community as a provider of recognised leadership qualifications.

78% of sports leaders said that their qualification and the experience gained helped them get their first job.
